BIZERTE AND TUNIS ARE THREATENED BY AMERICAN AND BRITISH ADVANCES

HITLER FACING NEW DUNKERQUE IN SOVIET CAUCASUS, TUNISIA

AXIS OUTLOOK DARKENED ALSO BY IMMINENT ALLIED INVASION

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor.
Adolf Hitler's invasion armies today faced the prospect of attempting a "double Dunkerque"—in the Soviet Caucasus as well as Tunisia—and the Axis picture was further darkened by forecasts of an imminent allied invasion of Europe. Dispatches from Moscow said powerful Soviet naval forces were waiting to pound Spion Gulf and attempt to evacuate troops from the Caucasus to the Crimea as the Red army stormed within nine miles of Novorossisk. Black Sea naval base.

Novorossisk is the last major German stronghold in the Caucasus.

Smashing new gains all along the 125-mile Tunisian front were announced in a bulletin from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters, highlighted by the British 1st army's capture of bloody Djebel Bou Aouakaz guarding the open plain before Tunis.

The communiqué also reported that American troops driving toward the great Bizerre naval fortress attacked the Germans south of Lake Achkel and "succeeded in capturing a part of an important feature of the defense."

This may have been the lake of Ferryville, only eight miles from Bizerre. American forces were reported five miles from Ferryville last night.

Eighth Army Also Active.

Dispatches subsequently identified the feature as Djebel Achkel, on the northern shore of the lake. "On the 8th the front, a local advance was made and patrols penetrated deeply behind the enemy's positions," said headquarters said. "The country has been heavily mined."

While the whole tenor of the allied communiqué suggested that Axis defenses were crumbling, the Italian high command asserted that "German and Italian troops stood firm in sustained and hard defensive fighting."

Coupled with the British 1st army's seizure of Djebel Bou Aouakaz, the last ridge before the Tunis plain, the U. S. Army 2nd corps cast off a series of Nazi attacks farther north, and the French were reported advancing in their sweep along the Mediterranean coastal plain within 10 miles of Bizerre.

Davis Predicts Invasion.

Meanwhile, OWI Director Elmer Davis declared in Washington there was "no question but that there will be allied operations on Continental Europe this summer."

Davis said he was confident Gen. Eisenhower's armies could clean up North Africa soon enough to permit the long-awaited assault on the continent in the coming months.

Frontline dispatches said Bizerre was under heavy pressure from two directions, with the French advancing along the northern shores of Lake Achkel which adjoins Lake Bizerre, while American troops drove around the lake's southern shores within five miles of Ferryville.

Ferryville, only eight miles from Bizerre, lies in the narrow bottleneck between the two lakes.

Berlin Tells of New Anti-Aircraft Artillery Towers

(By The Associated Press.)

The Berlin radio gave the German people today a description of Berlin's new anti-aircraft artillery towers.

In a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, a Transcopic military correspondent was quoted as calling the towers "gigantic" and saying that each one contained 100 tons of ferro-concrete as 15 kilometers—about 10 miles—of the west wall.

"This is scarcely believable amount," the broadcast said, "is explained by the immense thickness of the walls, and the strength of the foundation of the guns and of the ceiling of bomb-proof rooms."

The broadcast said that apart from housing a crew of some 200 men, shelter could be provided to "many civilians."

"There is even a room for children," it added.

The broadcast asserted the towers also provided protection for war planes of art. It went on:

"Even bombs of the heaviest caliber cannot do any harm to these towers. These towers have twin guns. New calibers and new kinds of ammunition were developed which made defense against high and low flying enemies possible."

"Hitler youth boys have provided needed assistance crews for these guns. Most of them are between 15 and 16 and are well educated."

FIGHTING VIOLENT IN KUBAN AREA—Both ground and air fighting mounted in violence in the Kuban valley, following the German-admitted recapture of Krymskaya (arrow) by the Russians. The German air force has lost more than 125 planes in the past two days, according to Russia. Shaded area is approximate German-held territory.

HOUSE RECEIVED CONNALLY BILL FOR OUTLAWING STRIKES

REP. PATMAN URGES PUNISHMENT AS CRIMINALS FOR CONSPIRATORS

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(P) Punishment as criminals for those who conspire to delay production in any war plant was urged today by Rep. Patman (D-Texas) as the house received the senate bill to give official blessing to government seizure of strike-bound war plants.

The senate bill, by Senator Connally (D-Texas), provides stiff penalties for investigating work stoppages in plants that have been taken over by the government. Connally said that it does not go far enough.

Paman proposed expanding the Connally bill to impose a fine up to $5,000 or imprisonment up to five years for conspiring to prevent, stop, hinder or interrupt any work essential to the war effort, in industry or in a government operation.

Connally said it was disclosed that AFL President William Green had directed labor union groups in six states to refrain from complying with certain recently enacted labor laws in those states until the AFL has exhausted every legal right of attacking them.

Green, in a circular letter said Joseph A. Padway, AFL counsel, had advised him that the laws "violate both state and federal constitutions."

The states named are Texas, Arkansas, South Dakota, Idaho, Kansas and Colorado.

Green's letter said the AFL has no intention of refusing to comply with valid laws, but is convinced that, in concert with measures it considers unconstitutional, will disrupt normal labor relations and impose serious injury upon the labor movement.

Patman made his argument before a judiciary subcommittee. He told newsmen later that if his bill were law, it would affect the case of John L. Lewis, mine workers president, in the recent coal strike.

Connally's bill passed the senate yesterday 63 to 16.

LEWIS' UNITED MINE WORKERS CONTINUING TO IGNORE BOARD

WAR LABOR BOARD PANEL, HOWEVER, CONTINUES ACTIVITIES

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(P) John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers continued to ignore the War Labor Board's efforts to solve the soft coal wage dispute today as a panel took testimony from bituminous operators.

Nearly an hour late, the panel resumed hearings behind closed doors and again the UMW was not represented.

WLB officials said Charles O'Neill continued his presentation for the Northern Appalachian operators. About 50 operators, North and South, and their spokesmen were on hand.

Normally WLB panel sessions are closed and in accordance with that policy reporters were excluded today. A member of the staff of the Office of War Information, the Rev. Roscoe Palmer, was permitted to remain, however, and took a seat at the table, alongside the panel members with pencil poised.

Tax Bill Hearings.

With the tax scheme shifted from the house by its passage of a compromise pay-as-you-go bill, the Senate Finance Committee heard a treasury argument that while there is "little room for choice" among three plans for current collection of taxes, the abatement of revenue proposed in the Republican-Carson-Rum plan "is thoroughly inequitable."

On this third day of a two-weeks truce under which soft coal is being mined, there were these developments:

1. Harold L. Ickes, fuel administrator and coal field boss for the government, set up a system for emergency diversion of coal from those who have it to those who don't; War Production Board officials indicated a nation-

RED ARMY HAMMERS AT APPROACHES TO NOVOROSSISK TODAY

LOSS OF 7,000 DEAD AND MANY CAPTURED HAS WEAKENED AXIS

LONDON, May 6.—(P)—The Red army has advanced "far beyond" Krymskaya in the Caucasus and now is storming new German fortifications, the Moscow radio reported today in a broadcast recorded here by the Soviet Monitor.

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, May 6.—(P)—The Red army, hammering today at the northeast approaches to Novorossisk, has taken a dozen more villages in the area in addition to Krymskaya, and nine other towns which the Soviets announced they captured yesterday in smashing through the Kuban delta bulge toward the Black Sea port.

The vote to send the bill to conference was reconsidered today and the senate amendments were then accepted.

Nearings of the end of the general session slated for May 11, but pressure on house and senate members seeking enactment of favored legislation before the deadline.

Temper flared yesterday preceding house acceptance of senate amendments to a house bill regulating and licensing chiropractors.

At least 10 members clamored to make personal privilege speeches before Rev. Arthur Cato of Weatherwood, opponent of the chiropractic measure, shouted:

"It is generally known the chiropractors spent $25,000 in this house."

"That's a lie," snapped Rep. Ennis Favors of Tampa.

Rep. W. T. McDonald of Bryan suggested that Cato apologize.

"I amend my statement to say that lots of parties and friends were thrown," declared Cato. "I'm not going out of the way when I say those parties were sponsored by the chiropractors."

The chiropractic measure, by Rep. Mano Westbrooks of Magnolia Springs was perhaps the most controversial of the session.

The senate cautiously surveyed house bills, passing a measure amending the motor fuel tax statutes after striking down an amendment to increase the tax on gasoline and Diesel fuel.

Final vote was 194 on the bill permitting the comptroller to allow the sale of non-taxable products without collecting the state tax when the products are for exportation or further refining.

Premier Tojo of Japan Says Ready Deal Fatal Blow

(By The Associated Press.)

Premier General Hirosi Tojo of Japan was quoted by the Axis radio today as saying in Manila that Japanese fighting forces had "strengthened all strategically important bases in great East Asia" and were "now prepared to deal a decisive blow at the enemy."

Tojo's speech was recorded by the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(P)—The War Labor Board's fact-finding panel in the coal wage dispute decided today to overlook the cold-shoulder treatment that President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has been giving it and voted to keep the door open for him to participate.

It turned from executive sessions to open hearing and chairman Morris L. Cockey let the miners, who have chosen not to send any representatives, know that the last string is on the outside if they fail to come to a decision.

Meanwhile, the house judiciary committee heard Rep. Patman (D-Texas) appeal for a law which would fine or imprison any one conspiring to hold up war production in any plant.

The capital heard also that Lt. Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commander of the armored force, will succeed the late Lt. Gen. Frank M. Andrews as commander of American troops in the European theater.

Secretary of War Stimson estimated that while "the noise is tightening" around axis forces in Tunisia, "there is every indication that will fight on."

The international developments included a speech to the house by President Enrique Penaranda of Bolivia and a report by the house ways and means committee favoring a three-year extension of the administration's reciprocal trade agreement program.

GRIM, CLOSE-MOUTHED BULGARIA

MAY BE GETTING REAL TIRED OF BEING DOMINATED BY HITLERISM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Bulgaria, grimmest and least vocal of the enigmatic Balkans, reportedly is in the grip of one of those mysterious crises which descend suddenly like birds of night on that part of the world.

From keen-eyed Turkey comes the report, via London Daily Mail, that 700 people have been arrested in Sofia.

Official Bulgarian control of the result of May Day demonstrations. What sort of demonstrations? That's part of the mystery.

But King Boris is said to have had his capital, and if that's so it suggests a boiling over of the popular dissatisfaction with his majesty's Hitlerian affiliations.

Many of the reports are coming from the Berlin propaganda agencies. They say that the streets of Sofia are deserted. All roads leading from Bulgaria are closed while the police hunt the murderers of Colonel Athanas Pantchev, former chief of police, who was assassinated Monday.

The whole picture is calculated to give the idea of an impending upheaval.

Bulgaria long has been displaying the complaint of a substantial part of the population against playing cat's-paw for Hitler and thus working against the Russians for whom many Bulgarians have a brotherly feeling, partly because of common Slavic background.

King Boris is of Teutonic extraction,

OVER MILLION IS ADDED TO PENSION AVAILABLE FUNDS

TEXAS HOUSE BACK-TRACKED TO SEND MEASURE TO GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, May 6.—(P)—House acceptance of senate amendments to the governor's desk a bill making an additional $1,154,000 available for old age pension payments over a 24-month period.

The house backtracked to accomplish acceptance of the senate amendments. Originally the lower chamber had rejected the senate alteration, the house wanted all of the money made immediately available) and asked for a free conference committee.

The vote to send the bill to conference was reconsidered today and the senate amendments were then accepted.

BOMBERS, FIGHTERS ATTACK JAPS ON ISLAND OF ATTU

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(P)—Establishment of a strong and independent Poland after the defeat of Germany was advocated by Premier Joseph Stalin in a letter to Ralph Parker, New York Times correspondent, made public here today by Tass, Soviet official news agency and broadcast by the Moscow radio.

Stalin added that should the Polish people so desire, post-war relations between Poland and the U. S. S. R. should be based "upon the fundamental of mutual assistance against the Germans as the chief enemies of the Soviet Union and Poland."

Stalin's letter was written Tuesday in answer to questions addressed to him the day before.

(The letter was published today in a copyrighted story in the New York Times.)

Tass said Parker addressed a letter to Stalin in which he asked for answers to two questions of interest to the American and British peoples.

MAN WHO ISSUES RATION BOOKS SEES LESS RATIONING

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—On his first anniversary as the man who issues ration books, Paul M. O'Leary predicted today that the coming 12 months are likely to see "less rather than more rationing."

As deputy OPA administrator in charge of rationing, O'Leary gets blamed every time a man's red stamp don't produce a 2-inch steak. Now and then someone approves of his work, believe it or not.

Exactly a year ago, O'Leary took his big plunge and passed out his first ration book. A half billion have been printed since.

The first one (No. 1) was sugar—remember? It's still in use, and coffee and shoes have been added. Other books since then included those for gasoline, fuel oil, and the processed foods meat (No. 2 book), No. 3 book, a replacement for No. 1, and 2 is printed and ready to be distributed by mail this summer. No. 4, also a replacement, is in the design stage.

Want to know what's going to be rationed next? So would O'Leary.

"I can say honestly," he said, "that I have no intention of rationing anything."

That doesn't mean that some of my staff aren't thinking from time to time various new rationing plans. That's common sense precaution. But it doesn't mean any of these plans will necessarily ever see the light of day."

"We may see less rationing rather than more," he added, but declined to elaborate on that state-

The house worked on a senate bill calendar with these results:

Passed to third reading, with amendments, a bill amending the state pharmacy act, generally tightening the qualifications of pharmacists' assistants.

The house refused to suspend rules and consider out of its regular order a senate bill placing purchase and distribution of free public school text books under the State Board of Education instead of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Concurrence in senate amendments sent to the governor an anti-stream pollution bill and a second bill requiring the packaging of flour and meal in quantities prescribed by federal agencies.

Chiropractor Bill Is Sent to Governor

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—Bound for the governor's desk today was one of the legislative session's most bitterly fought bills — to license and regulate chiropractors in Texas.

The senate amended and finally passed the bill yesterday, with Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith breaking a 12-12 tie by voting in its favor, and the house accepted the amendments after stormy debate, 70 to 58.

The bill gives legal status to chiropractic in Texas for the first time.

As amended by the senate, more severe restrictions are provided than were voted in the house where the measure originated.

It sets up a nine-member state board of chiropractic examiners who must have college degrees and must have been Texas residents for five years.

Applicants for license must have completed two years of college and have studied four years in a reputable chiropractic school. Chiropractors now practicing must pass a state board examination before being licensed.

TEXAS RAILROAD COMMISSION BLASTS BROWN FOR RULING

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—Price Administrator Prentiss Brown's refusal to grant a crude oil price increase drew blunt criticism from the Texas railroad commission with one member proposing an alternative plan for a price increase to stimulate exploration for new reserves.

Brown's proposal that the government help finance the drilling of wildcat wells was labeled unscientific, unspeakable and inadequate by the commissioners yesterday.

At the same time Commissioners Olin Culberson proposed that the federal government compel producers to take the entire allowable of new fields, and that new fields be permitted to produce without shutdowns for 18 months.

Stressing that the government "doesn't belong in this game," Culberson in an interview said the Brown plan "is unspeakable" and predicted that "wildcating will jump like mushrooms if" the Culberson program were adopted.

"Discoveries of some new reserves cannot sell their products because of pipeline proration," Culberson stressed, "the government should use its plenary powers to encourage wildcating with government funds as 'repugnant to our conception of American government and free enterprise.'

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson in an interview said that the Brown proposal "fails wholly to care for the stripper marginal well operators who are the backbone of the oil production."

House Held Night Session

The house in session last night passed more than two dozen Senate bills. Among these were measures:

Permitting the transfer of $60,000 a fund of the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston the John Sealy Hospital for the operation of free clinics through August.

Allowing commissioners courts to employ additional law enforcement officers in counties containing more than 5,000 cattle, sheep or goats.

Appropriation of $15,000 to take up unused note stamps invalid since repeal of the note stamp law two years ago.

Authorizing commissioners courts to create a military zone adjacent to a naval base, camp, station or yard.

Directing state agencies to submit requests for rental space the shore of the lake and north of Mattoon.

Authorizing the board of prison guard permits for geological surveys.

Permitting a discharged member of the armed forces to vote during the year without having paid a poll tax if his discharge occurs after Jan. 31.

Governor Has Signed Liquor Curfew Bill

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—The curfew bill to shorten hours for the sale and public consumption of alcoholic beverages carried the governor's signature today but it won't become law until 90 days after the legislature adjourns May 11.

Failure to get sufficient votes in the senate to put the emergency clause into effect will prevent its provisions from becoming operative before August.

The bill will start at 7 a. m. and stop uniformly at midnight on week days, except Saturday when they may continue for an hour later, under terms of the bill. A 15-minute period for consumption is allowed after sales stop each night. Sunday beer sales may begin before 1 p. m.

Liquor may be sold only from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. during the week. The old Sunday closing law on distilled spirits sales is not affected.

To Probe Sale Diseased Meats.

AUSTIN, May 6.—(AP)—Several members of special house committees were instructed to investigate the reported sale of diseased meat for human consumption in Texas planned to leave today for Fort Worth where hearings are scheduled to get under way Friday.

Chairman Roger Q. Evans of Denison said the committee would take testimony in a hearing Friday morning at the Tarrant county court house. The committee has already visited three San Antonio packing plants, he said.

Evans said the committee expects to make a report to the house by Monday.

offset by the factor of inequitable treatment of the 1942 tax.

"The treasury therefore believes that the Rum-Carlson bill is definitely inferior to both the ways and means committee bill and the house bill," he continued.

In the important aspects of collection at the source and the current tax payment provisions, Paul said "the treasury believes there is little room for choice between the three major bills."

"All three prove for the fundamental changes in tax payment methods which is necessary in our tax law," he added.

Rebuffed By House.

Rebuffed by house, Republican Rumites enlisted some Democratic support and carried to the senate finance committee today a fight for abatement of a full year's levies in the new current collection tax bill.

Minority Leader McNary of Oregon said a move to substitute a modified version of the Rum-Carlson "skip a year" plan of putting income taxes on a current basis would have full Republican support in the committee. If it unexpectedly fails there, he said the Republicans would take the issue to the floor, just as their colleagues did unsuccessfully in the house.

As the committee began public hearings on a house-approved bill the Republicans looked to Senator Clark (D-Mo.) to take the lead in offering the Rum-Carlson principle. Clark told reporters he would seize the first opportunity to try to substitute his own bill, which would excuse him same full year's tax for everybody without reference to a windfall income, which the Missouri senator said ought to be taxed in a separate measure.

He said he was confident a majority of the finance committee would support the Rum-Carlson plan, or a modified version of it.

There was strong opposition to the "skip a year" plan, as evidenced in an assertion of Senator Connally (D-Texas) that he was not going to support any plan that will throw away $10,000,000,000 when we need $16,000,000,000 in new taxes."

LOVE OF LEARNING

One man in a group discussing education suggested there was "probably more real culture per capita in Thomas Jefferson's time than now." He realized, thinking further, that this could hardly be so. But the whole group saw something different between that time, and even their parents' time, and the present. One speaker concluded it was the attitude towards schools and learning that differed.

In the early days this was felt very strongly by parents to be the land of opportunity for their children. Opportunity for education, for developing mental powers, was one of the great glories of America. Children were made to feel at every turn how wonderful was their chance to learn, how seriously they should take advantage of it. There was abroad in the land a love of learning for its own sake, which forms the basis of true scholarship and good citizenship.

For love of learning is love of truth and the search for it. It integrates life, unifying public service with private betterment, inner with outer life. Perhaps this enthusiasm will grow in American people again.

THE SOUP POT

Serious attention is drawn to soup, by a cut in the point-value of canned soups ordered by the Office of Price Administration. This was done because people were not buying such food according to expectations, and it was piling up. The reductions in point-costs will change that.

Soup may become a more serious matter, treated with dignity and respect, as the war grinds on and scarcities develop. The American people of this generation are only beginning to get really acquainted with soup. It is easier for people of French descent than for most others, because the French people have a natural genius for it. They can make a palatable soup out of almost anything short of wornout shoe soles. Many a grandmother may bring out the old iron pot again, stand it in the back of the stove to simmer all day, and produce a miraculously good plate of soup at supper time.

NEW PARTY FOR ENGLAND

Churchill so far overshadows other English public men that only a few are known here even by name. One of whom more will be heard is Sir Richard Acland, founder of a new party, the Common Wealth.

Most countries revere wealth. England has it. England has a special weakness for birth and family standing, and Acland has them. Everywhere philanthropic generosity is honored. Acland is noted for that. He has just handed over an estate of 19,000 acres as a gift to the nation.

This new millionaire baronet, 37, graduate of Rugby and Balliol, is sponsoring a new party, founded last July, to bring about socialism in our time. At every special Parliamentary election since then, the new Common Wealth party has done well, and a few days ago it elected its first member of Parliament.

The program grows out of the Labor party of which Acland has been a member. It calls for national ownership of the land, coal, electricity, transportation, iron

More About Ellen Elizabeth.
"Bragging you go!" says the mother.
Just as I am,
No body's eager to hear you review.
The smart little deeds which your grandchildren do!"
Still I must tell, if a minute you've got;
Ellen Elizabeth jabbers a lot!

Only her brother who's with her all day knows everything she is trying to say.
Quick as a flash she picks up every phrase.
Repeating it later in curious ways.
Leaving no doubt she's a smart little tot.
Ellen Elizabeth jabbers a lot!

"People grow weary," says mother, "you know.
Hearing you brag of your granddaughter so."
"Listen," I answer. "For forty long years old grandpas take charge of my son.
Now it's my turn. Let 'em like it or not!"
Ellen Elizabeth jabbers a lot!
Not a bit backward, and not a bit shy.
Ask her a question, you'll get a reply.

Speech like a waterfall flows from her lip.

and steel. Owners are to be compensated by an annual allowance not to exceed $6,000. President Roosevelt's proposal to limit net incomes for the duration stopped at $25,000.

England has had a good many new parties, most of them lasting but a year or two. While this may be another morning-glory, the strength shown by Acland's radical movement shows what lies ahead for England.

TAIL WAGGING DOG

European France is completely conquered, but Algiers is free. Could not the necessary rebuilding of the French government start with Algeria, with France subordinate until normal times are restored?

This might seem like the tail wagging the dog. But it has already happened to a European country in modern times. In 1807, fearing conquest by Napoleon, King John VI of Portugal and his court took ship for Brazil, then a Portuguese possession. They liked it so well that they did not return till 1822, and then only because of threats that if the king would not live in Portugal, there would be another ruler.

If Portuguese affairs could be managed from Brazil, almost 3,000 miles away, in sailing vessel days, there need be no difficulty, in these days of planes and fast boats, about the 400 miles that separate Algeria and France.

Incidentally Petain's fame might have been higher if, instead of surrendering to the Nazis, he had initiated the Portuguese king and continued the fight from across the seas.

Fourteen Victims In Crash of Plane Iceland Monday

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—The Iceland plane crash in which Lt. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, commander of American troops in the European theater, and Bishop Adna W. Leonard of the Methodist Church were killed Monday took the lives of 12 other men.

The war department, in announcing the death list yesterday, reported that Staff Sgt. George A. Eisel of Columbus, Ohio, was the only survivor. He escaped serious injury.

General Andrews, chief of staff, 39-year-old Brig. Gen. Charles H. Barth of Walker, Minn., and Leavenworth, Kas., and two chaplains were among those killed. The chaplains were Col. Frank L. Miller of the office of chief of chaplains, Washington, and Maj. Robert H. Humphrey, Lynchburg, Va.

Walter Lewis Has Entered U. S. Navy

On Saturday, May 1st, Walter Lewis entered the service of the U. S. Navy, and was placed as commander over a group of young men in Dallas, after which they left by train for San Diego, California, where they will be stationed for the present. Mrs. Walter Lewis and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Lewis accompanied him to Dallas.

Walter is well known in Corsicana and held several responsible positions since finishing school. For the past two years he has been chief dispatcher for Corsicana Air Activities of Texas, having proven a valuable and worthy employee, as well as a popular friend to his co-workers and to all who knew him.

His wife, the former Elizabeth Elliott, is residing with his parents. Corsicanans will miss Walter Lewis and will be wishing for him the best of success in his service to the armed forces.

Red Cross furnished cigarettes and post cards for the men, coffee was made at George's Grill, cookies were donated by Collin Street Bakery and Willman's Dairy furnished the cream.

Mrs. Walter Burgess has returned to Houston where she visited in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed Surber, and family.

ONLY TWO METHODS OF HOME CANNING ARE RECOMMENDED

COLLEGE STATION, May 6.—(Spl.)—Only two methods of home canning are recommended by the Extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas, as being safe, preventing spoilage and retaining the maximum amount of food value, flavor, texture, and color.

One method, says Winifred Jones, extension specialist in food preservation, is to process meats and vegetables, except tomatoes and ripe pimientos, in a pressure cooker. The other method is the water bath for fruits, tomatoes, and ripe pimientos.

She explains that the pressure cooker offers the safest known method of canning the non-acid vegetables and meats because it destroys bacteria in these foods, including the most dangerous, the bacillus botulinus. If these bacteria are not destroyed in the spore stage they may grow and later produce a toxin or poison in the food.

"The worst part about this poison is that you usually cannot smell, taste or see it, yet one small bite could cause death or severe illness," she says. The bacillus is destroyed by maintaining pressure at 240 to 250 degrees Fahrenheit. In an oven or water bath the temperature of the food inside the jar never goes higher than 212 degrees, because the way to get liquid higher than 212 degrees is to maintain pressure.

Open kettle canning is not recommended by the specialist because research has proved there is a greater percentage of spoilage and the food often becomes mushy in texture. It is best not to can fruit and tomatoes in a pressure cooker because they keep easily when processed at 212 degrees Fahrenheit in a water bath. Further directions on modern canning methods are available from county home demonstration agents.

EARLY DIAGNOSIS VERY IMPORTANT IN CARE TUBERCULOSIS

AUSTIN, May 6.—(Spl.)—Urging the importance of early diagnosis as the surest avenue of recovering from tuberculosis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, declares that the danger of this disease lies not so much in its virulence as in its steady attack.

"If a tuberculous patient realizes his plight in the earliest stages of the disease, immediate treatment could very likely save his life," Dr. Cox said.

The victim usually has sufficient warning of the onset of the disease, but all too frequently ignores them.

"The warning signs are usually noticeable enough to attract attention," Dr. Cox said. "A cough that persists, loss of weight, easy tiredness—if any of these symptoms are present, delay in seeking proper medical attention only lessens the chance of arresting the disease."

"It is the better part of valor, in the presence of such symptoms, to seek the advice of the family physician without delay," Dr. Cox added. "Early diagnosis and early treatment are the real foes of tuberculosis. To deprive one of them is of their immeasurable advantages results at best in a long period of treatment, and all too frequently in premature death."

BOLDNESS, AND MORE BOLDNESS A NEED FOR CRISIS HOUR*

The Soldier Virtue Exercised to Individual Life—Dramatic Story From Book of Boldness—Helping Human Need Gave Early Church a Start

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Almost directly we read of decorations for heroism being placed upon soldiers who in civil life had been clerks and mechanics. Something had happened to them to turn them into spectacular heroes. Whence the transformation? Loyalty to comrades, to Country and to a Cause had lifted them out of littleness into greatness.

Something of a parallel is found in the experience of Peter and John and the Early Church. These commonplace men had been rather pusillanimous. They were just ordinary commoners, indistinguishable embers of the crowd that thronged Jerusalem's streets. Then they caught the contagions of the life of their risen Lord, and became outspoken, fearless leaders and doers.

The Book of Boldness

This stirring book of the Acts of The Apostles is misnamed; it is rather the Story of the Apostolic Church. It might even be called the Book of Boldness, for that is its key word. And in the original, "Boldness" means "Free Utterance." The most revealing of a dozen passages concerning boldness is the Golden Text of this Lesson: "When they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." The first report of Paul's preaching mentioned his boldness, and subsequently reports use the same word. The closing words of the book picture Paul as "teaching the things concerning Jesus Christ with all boldness."

Better than on osteopathic treatment for slackened Christians is a careful reading of this Book of Boldness. It puts courage and freedom of utterance into the spirit. It makes Christian witness brave and outspoken. And, best of all, it reveals to every hearer the truth that the speaker has been with Jesus. The courage of Christ is contagious. It has enabled millions to face martyrdom serenely. It has established Christian standards of life in whole communities.

War-Time Courage in Peace

Notorious evils bight our land, more in some communities than in others. Where Christian convictions are outspoken, the standards of decency prevail. Why should decent men and women keep silent, while exploiters and selfists and criminals press their causes shamelessly? Anybody with conviction and courage can write a letter to his newspaper, and to his public representative, condoning for the great truths of life. In these war times, should we stay-at-homes not emulate the courage of our fighting men? If there were more free utterance from the press there would be less party politics in government and fewer "black markets" and social ills.

Only yesterday a friend told me of a tale of a local situation where disaster was threatened to a Canadian community by a self-seeking business man. The need for prompt and verile action by public-minded citizens was urgent. But many prominent men declined to cooperate, lest their business should be hurt by reprisals. The issue was settled aright, because of the boldness of a few. This Bible-taught principle of courageous witness-bearing is a truth for the times. Men and women who seek first the Kingdom must become more vocal.

The Man Who Leaped

There is a beautiful human interest story imbedded in our Lesson. Our great heroes, after Peter's great sermon at Pentecost went up, one afternoon, to the Temple to pray. (Despite its imperfections, they did not stay away from the Church.) At the gate lay, as he had lain for a generation, a pitiful professional beggar. How often have I seen such there, a miserable spectacle with a wailing wife.

This lame man besought alms of the two worshippers. They paused, and the mendicant's hope rose, as he wondered what coins he would get from them. For they looked upon him with compassion. Then Peter spoke: "Look on us. Silver and gold have I none; but what I have that I give thee. In the name of Jesus

Healing followed. The lame man leaped, and walked.

New Manager of Local Theatres Arrives in City

Barry Burke, moving picture theatre executive with wide experience, takes over the Corsicana Interstate Theatres Wednesday as city manager.

Wm. E. Mick, Sr., manager here since September 15, goes to an executive position in the special service department of National Screen Service, with headquarters in Dallas.

Burke has been connected with the Minnesota American Company for almost eleven years with headquarters in Minneapolis where he was manager of one of the largest theatres in that city.

A native of Texas, Burke started in the show business in Fort Worth. He has managed theatres in a number of the major cities of the United States. At one time he was manager of the Palace theatre at Dallas and organized the Publix stage shows. Mrs. Burke will join her husband within the next few weeks and they will make their permanent home here.

Mick made many friends while in Corsicana and under his management, patronage and popularity of the local theatres showed a decided upward trend.

Information From Rationing Board

It has come to the attention of Navarro county war price and rationing board chairman Wilbur Wright, that certain retailers in their registration of processed foods misunderstood some of the items, which has caused an error in their allowable points.

To ascertain the correct figures to be used in item 17, they should take the sum of Item 8, which is "Balance in the Ration Book Account," plus Item 9, "Points on Hand Not Deposited," and Item 10, "Points to Suppliers Not Yet Shipped."

Cemetery Working.

The Richland Cemetery Association urges those interested in cemetery work to come out today after noon, May 7, for a working, as the observance of Memorial Day will be set for Sunday, May 23, at 3 o'clock.

Individuals beginning late in June and ending July 21. Mailmen will leave postcard application forms at every house between May 20 and June 5.

The postcards, properly filled out by the head of the house and mailed to OPA, will bring Ration Book Number 3. Prentiss M. Brown, price administrator, emphasizes that Book No. 3 is a replacement book only, containing a new supply of stamps to take the place of those now being used up. He said if any more rationing programs were necessary there would be official notice by the government.

July Term of District Court
Twelve Weeks

The July term of the Thirteenth Judicial District Court (Navarro county) will be twelve weeks in the future instead of six weeks as has been the law for many years.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson Monday signed House Bill 697 that made the July term the same length as the three other terms of the year.

This extension of the term will enable the trying of many more cases in the summer session of court when farm and other seasonal employment is more or less at a standstill and the difficulty of securing special venues and petit juries at the spring or April term will be relieved.

TEEN-AGE STUDENTS QUITTING SCHOOL FOR REAL DEAD-END JOBS

DALLAS, May 6.—(AP)—Dallas teen-agers are quitting school by the hundreds to take dead-end jobs that will offer them little opportunity for advancement.

This was the report today of Leo Stadther, census director for schools here, who said approximately 5,000 school children between the ages of six and 18 are missing from their desks this year. The majority of these are teen-age, said Stadther.

"War has made children want to work, parents willing for them to quit school and employers anxious to replace war vacancies," he explained.

Most of the boys and girls quitting school are going to work as messengers, errand boys and laundry workers—dead-end jobs that will offer them little after the war. Miss Martha Locke, board of education teacher said:

"Students must be made to realize that they are throwing away their future when they quit school just to take any kind of job merely for the sake of finding adult."

Although faced with a compulsory attendance law, schools are trying to enforce attendance through encouragement rather than coercion.

Teachers go into the homes of long-absent children and try to convince parents and students that education pays. High school deans question boys and girls about to drop out of school in an attempt to find reasons for the withdrawal.

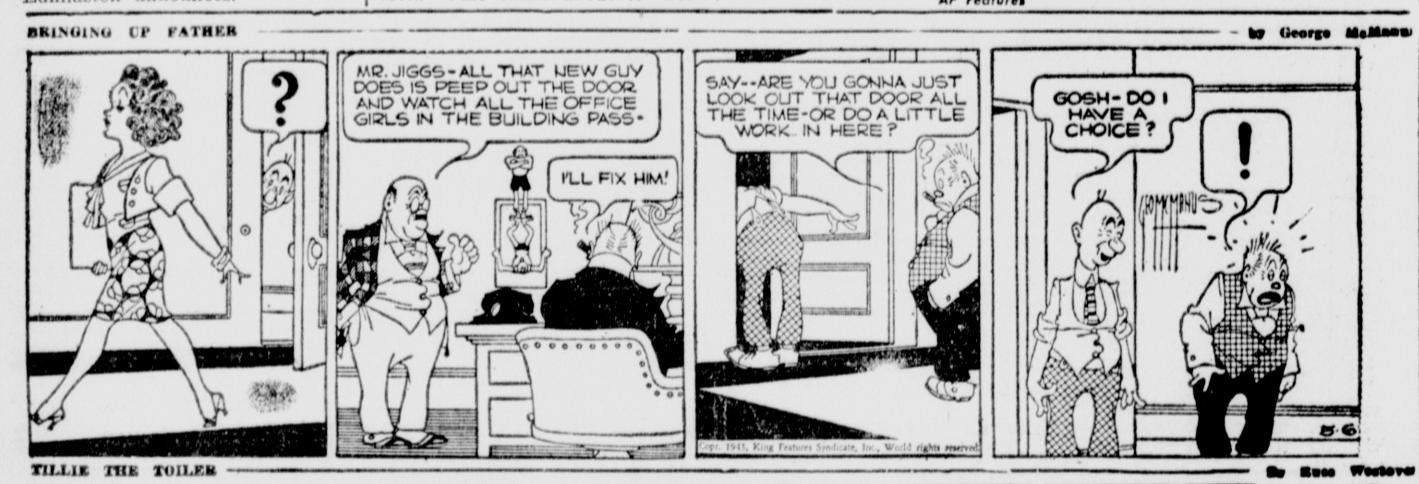

If the student is quitting because he needs food, clothes or bus fare, the case often is handed to city welfare agencies for solution.

Lunch rooms in 55 schools provide meals for those who might quit because they have no lunch money.

GARDENING EXERCISES.

The other day I was helping to dig in what is to become our Victory Garden and it brought home to me again what valuable exercise one can derive from such work. Not only is Vitamin D so necessary for the assimilation of other vitamins and minerals in your diet—but you are bending, Veronica Dengel teaching, pushing, pulling all the time.

My thoughts used to make each bend and stretch and reach count! And I did—with the consequence that I found several muscles which I had no idea were there—but they told me about their presence with no uncertain aches! but nothing was going to stop me—and I worked the next day to undo that new stiffness with a continuation of the very exercise which had made me sore. And sure enough that night I felt much easier. An Epsom salts bath helped me no end, too.

Here are two or three of the stunts I tried. When I was to move from one place to another I stretched out the left (or right—alternate them) leg far behind me and pushed up with the bent right leg; then brought the left leg forward to step to the new place and bend down again so that both the weight and the right leg (now back) still extended. Then from the squatting position, I would bring that right leg around in a wide arc to the front and then kneel.

While in the kneeling position, bending forward, I kept pulling on the stomach muscles—and instead of letting my back hunch over too much, I tried to keep it straight, as I leaned forward. I tried to reach as far in all directions as I could without changing my position.

Then I wanted to cut away some wildy grown ramble roses. As I leaned over, I would not let my knees bend and thus I felt a terrific pull in the back thighs, and my upper arms felt more strain than they would from a usual bend.

You can work out many little stretches for yourself in your daily work. Just think about it—work on your posture at all times—and each stretch and push and bend and pull will bring you a leaner, smoother contour. I have not told you soaking in warm water, not only for Vitamin D, so necessary for the assimilation of other vitamins and minerals in your diet—but you are bending, Veronica Dengel teaching, pushing, pulling all the time.

Information From Rationing Board

Community-wide ceilings on a substantial number of grocery products will be announced Sunday in this city, stated Navarro county war price and rationing board Chairman Wilbur Wright, Thursday.

These maximum prices—designed primarily for the housewife—will go into effect May 10. They will be the highest legal prices which may be charged in the areas covered. Items to be covered are poultry, fluid milk, eggs, butter, packaged cheese, sugar, cereals, evaporated and condensed milk, flour and other groceries.

A small number of dry-cell batteries for maintaining telephone service in rural areas have been serviceable for distribution through hardware stores and other distributors, the Office of War Information says. Distributors may obtain the batteries by submitting Form PD-IX to the wholesale and retail trade division of WPB.

Dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for wholesale sales of frankfurters, bologna, and fresh and smoked sausage have been established by the Office of Price Administration.

The prices reflect, generally, the March 1942, ceiling prices established under the General Maximum Price Regulation and MPRI 169.

Office of War Information Director Elmer Davis said in an interview that there is "no question but that there will be allied operations on continental Europe this summer. He said he thought the allies could clean up North Africa in time for such an invasion."

OWL also disclosed that the Army has developed portable pipelines to carry gasoline supplies to motor vehicles in the field.

And the first anniversary of his job as issuing ration books found Paul M. O'Leary, deputy price administrator, predicting that the next 12 months will see "less rather than more rationing."

MOTHER KILLS HER DAUGHTER, AGED 6; WOUNDS SON, SEVEN

IN UNIFORM

DALLAS, May 6.—(P)—Detective Inspector Will Fritz said Mrs. Mary K. Frailey shot and killed her six-year-old daughter, Louise, and critically wounded her son, Watt Martin, 3d, here today after custody of the children had been divided between her and her former husband, Watt Martin, Jr., of Miami Beach, Fla.

The children were being prepared to return to Miami Beach, with their father, who was to have custody until Sept. 14 under an agreed judgment entered by Judge W. L. Thornton yesterday in district court.

"I just couldn't bear to have them taken from me. I'd rather have them dead than away from me," Policeman H. H. Stringer quoted the woman as sobbing to him.

The shooting occurred in the apartment of A. S. Mo., where he has been living with the children because of her relations with Frailey.

The couple were married some time ago but Frailey later learned that his divorce decree from his former wife had been set aside.

Suit Began Week Ago.

Martin's suit for custody of the children began a week ago. He claimed his former wife was unfit to retain custody of the children because of her relations with Frailey.

The agreed judgment provided that Martin and his former wife divide custody of the children, each keeping them for six-month periods. Martin was to have first custody until Sept. 14.

The Martin boy was taken to Parkland Hospital in a critical condition. Both children were shot through the hand.

Police quoted Mrs. Frailey as saying she went to a downtown store here this morning and purchased the pistol for $10. She left the children in the care of Mrs. Leon Jackson, operator of the apartment house in which the Fraileys were residing.

"I herad two shots and ran out the back door of the apartment house," Mrs. Jackson told police. The radio announcer was summoned and he and Mrs. Frailey were questioned briefly at the scene. They were then taken to the police office for further questioning.

Judge's Remarks.

In entering the judgment, Judge Thornton said he did so only with the provision in the decree:

"It appearing to the court that the relationship heretofore and now existing between the defendant and one A. S. W. Frailey is illegal, and the defendant having promised the court to cease and desist from such relationship, her right to custody of the said children under the terms of this decree is conditioned upon her desisting and refraining from such relationship in the future."

During the trial, Frailey and the former Mrs. Martin testified they were married Aug. 9, 1940 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., but later learned Frailey's divorce decree from his wife had been set aside.

The former Mrs. Martin testified that she had lived since then in the same apartment with Frailey but that they had not lived as man and wife since learning his divorce was not final.

Martin claimed in court that the children were kidnaped from the yard of his home in Florida 26 months ago and that he only recently located them here.

AVIATION CADET COMPILES INTERESTING INFORMATION ABOUT ARMY FLYING SCHOOL

An interesting article appeared in "Flying Lines," publication of the cadets and civilian force of Corsicana Field, Air Activities of Texas, this week on the local school record of growth and achievement. The article, written by Cadet J. R. Fehrenbach, deals with the start of the school, its management, both civilian and military and other features.

The article points out the "old" field on March 19, 1941, was on the site of a previous oil storage tank farm. The first 100 cadets trained here had a field about half the size of the present one. There are several auxiliary fields under the same management there is a satellite field and its own auxiliary. Included in the article is the following information:

Expansion Program.

"Corsicana Field began with a small percentage of the personnel and instructors it has today. As conditions warranted it, men were added to the staff until at present it includes a number of supervisors, many instructors and two standardization pilots (men who ride with the instructors to see that they all fly the same way—the army way). Then on the side, the school is now carrying a class of new instructors taking refreshment courses. These men are the instructor-reserve, always ready to step in should any of the present instructors decide to leave for any purpose.

"As a refresher to you gadgets who aren't up to snuff on the field management, it runs something as follows: The man who holds the contract with the government for training flyers is B. Cpl. Ben Blackmon is spending a thirteen day furlough here with his parents, relatives and friends. He has just completed a course in advanced radar and is in the technical training command. Cpl. Blackmon will leave for his post at Boca Raton Field, Florida, Friday.

Cpl. Malvin F. Keathley, son of Mrs. Della Scott of this city, has graduated from an intensive course in aviation mechanics at North American Aviation Factory School, Inglewood, Calif. This is one of the many schools in the army air forces technical training program which has the specialists technicians who maintain bomber and fighter planes in perfect combat condition. He is eligible to become crew chief on a bomber and to win a higher rating.

Cpl. Arthur A. Melton has visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Melton of Pickett, Saturday night. Cpl. Melton is stationed with the 36th Guard Squadron at Blackland Army Flying School.

Mrs. W. H. Power has received a telegram from her husband, Lieut. Power, navigator with the U. S. Air Forces, stating that he has arrived safely somewhere in England. Lieut. Power is now employed at the American Well and Prospecting Company, and will reside in Corsicana with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neese. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Willard have received a message from their son, Grady, who has been employed in a defense plant in Cumberland, Md., stating that he has received a commission as Ensign in U. S. N. R., and that he will be stationed at Ft. Schuyler, New York.

Neal Gay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gay, 1215 West Fourteenth avenue, has been promoted to the rank of seaman, second class, and is a storekeeper in the ice cream plant at the Corpus Christi Naval Station. He has been in the navy for nine weeks, having been sent directly to Corpus Christi following his enlistment and induction.

The former Mrs. Martin testified that she had lived since then in the same apartment with Frailey but that they had not lived as man and wife since learning his divorce was not final.

Martin claimed in court that the children were kidnaped from the yard of his home in Florida 26 months ago and that he only recently located them here.

Dime and A Prayer Gets Florida Home

MACON, Ga., May 6.—(P)—Mrs. W. Woolley. He in turn has appointed as supervisor of flying L. W. Long, and as director of flying T. J. Creighton.

"The latter two men have under their wing the flight, parachute, air activities operations, and dispatching departments.

Civilian Instructors.

"The instructors that struggle to teach us the why's and wherefore's of flying are all employed by the management, and are all civilians. In fact, the only flying personnel on the field are the post commander, Capt. L. S. Dysinger, and his army check pilots.

"The army supplies the curriculum, and Air Activities sees to it that it is carried out to the letter. The management, or you might call it corporation, takes care of expenses such as food, supplies, instructors and gasoline, and the government in turn reimburses the corporation for training cadets, besides supplying the planes and army supervisors.

"Added to all this, there is the very important maintenance department under the able guidance of Supervisor C. C. Magee and Assistant supervisor E. Higgins both here. This department keeps the planes in shape at all times. It is an independent organization within an organization. Its personnel takes care of all minor maintenance, i. e., engine change, woodwork, fabric work and sheet metal.

Thorough Inspection.

"There is an inspection made of every plane every night under the watchful eyes of Mr. Mattheck, the night supervisor. There is also a pre-flight inspection made on every plane just in case something might have been missed by the night crew, and more thorough inspection of the fifteenth and one hundredth hour.

"Not to be overlooked, of course is the ground school, manned by competent civilian instructors. Here cadets learn airplanes and aircraft engines, the theory of flight, aircraft identification, navigation and weather—all tying in directly with flying and simplifying flight procedure.

"It all adds up to a very competent organization which aids us immeasurably in getting those coveted wings."
